ing the war period should be conserved and invested in government bonds."

union leaders and company officials. Work will be resumed Wednesday morning.

RADIO COMMUNICATIONS equipment for civil defense in Fox Point is tested by Civil Defense Director Harold Olson (left), the village fire and police chief, after installation of the equipment at the Fox Point Police Station. Members of the Milwaukee Radio Amateurs' Club, who will assist in manning the equipment, are H. E. Saxton (center), 709 E. Sylvan Av., and John Scarvaci, 5120 N. Elkhart Av. The equipment, provided by Saxton, can be used in conjunction with mobile radio equipped cars operated by club members in the event of power failure or destruction of telephone facilities.

In the Sunday Sentinel By Dan Spiegle